WE NOMINATE

Malvern Reeve, one of New Jersey's "senior senior citizens" and in a nation as young as these United States an institution in himself, whose 100th birthday on June 17th is giving picturesque Rocky Hill a sense of its heritage and an opportunity to pay its deep respect to a remarkable individual. This coming Saturday afternoon an entire community, ranging from "the town fathers" to the great-great grandsons of some once close to Dr. Reeve, will "pass in review" before the Crescent Avenue home of a dedicated "country doctor" who only retired from medical practice at age 94 — six short years ago.

While Dr. Reeve's participation in the observance may be curtailed by his physicians, there can be no doubt about the enthusiasm of the sponsors. Interest has snowballed to the degree that the Reeve Centennial completely overshadows any local memories of the New Jersey Tercentenary. There are apparently few in Rocky Hill not aware that Dr. Reeve (in a municipality with a population now in excess of 700 persons) delivered some 5,000 babies, that in yesteryear he crisscrossed the Rocky Hill-Kingston Area by horse and buggy, that he acquired one of the village's first automobiles — "a Ford touring car" equipped with cans of gasoline and dozens of tire patches.

One of the marchers in Saturday's parade relishes memories of "the doctor" and how, generation by generation, he "ushered my whole family into the world." Years before Princeton and Somerset Hospitals were brought into being, and when transporting a patient over a meandering road-net was not something to be undertaken lightly, she recalls: "He always got us well and most often, it seemed, with colored pills taken with a half-glass of water. He seldom gave the impression of being hurried and, after treating a child's injuries, invariably found a lollipop in the bottom of his bag. I still remember that as a little girl I even loved the way he smelled of cigars!"

From one of Princeton's best-known men of medicine, also a Reeve baby, comes the reminiscence of how over the course of some six decades Dr. Reeve "always answered a call," whatever the time of year and wherever the location. Nor was the practice of medicine in the pre-Depression Years invariably a paying proposition. Like the general practitioners depicted in biography and fiction, Reeve's modest fees for "house calls" were frequently months late and sometimes "in kind" — eggs, chickens, vegetables and "fruits in season" for visits that might have involved trudging on foot through head-high drifts of snow on the Rocky Hill-Kingston railroad tracks.

The second doctor to move into Rocky Hill in the late 19th century, this slightly built Philadelphian, who delivered his last baby shortly before his 93d birthday, was trained in Hahnemann Medical College and practiced briefly in Bridgeton, N. J. where he met his late wife, once described as "Rocky Hill's first citizen." Together, starting in 1898, they handled an ever-demanding rural practice, battled the "horrible flu epidemic of 1918," raised and lost an only son, and played major roles in community organizations, including the Dutch Reformed Church and Rocky Hill's Hook and Ladder Company Number One.

For his close affiliation with any community enterprise which has sought "to do good"; for symbolizing for admiring friends and neighbors the traditions of service Americans associate with the medical profession; for linking to the turbulent present visions of a more serene past; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

"I'LL WALK BESIDE YOU"
Gaye Konoover to Graduate.
Nearly 15 years ago, four-year-old E. Riker, son of Mrs. Mary Riker, walked across the playground at the Leigh Avenue nursery school with his arm around the shoulders of a three-year-old newcomer.

Halfway across the room, he dropped his arm and said to the little girl, who was blind, "This isn't doing you a bit of good, Gaye. It'll walk beside you so's you won't get hurt."

Next Wednesday, Gaye Elizabeth Konoover, now 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Konoover of 13 Patton Avenue, will graduate from Princeton High School. The first blind student known to have attended the Borough public school system, Gaye has devastated her teachers, one by one.

"She'd go flying down the steps," says Mrs. Terry Volweider, her fifth grade teacher at Nassau Street School. "I'd tell her, 'Gaye, you'll give me a heart attack.' Gaye would just call over her shoulder, 'I'm all right.' A few years later Howard Woodward, principal at Witherspoon, called her down for running in the halls."

The Name Fits. Carmen Precioso, who has taught her Spanish and French at the high school, comments, "Her name is a prop. She's so alive and gay to everything she does. When she is in Europe with the Choir, she sent me a card in braille. She won't read it to me - insists that I go to the encyclopedia!"

"The interesting thing," recalls Mrs. Dorothea Lammus, now Nassau Street principal, "was that each teacher would have some appreciation at first. It took Gaye about two days to dispel this."

"I taught her in fourth grade and found her so creative. A child would write a poem and Gaye would say, 'I'll put that to music tonight.' The next day we'd have a new song."

Her classmates have always adopted Joe Riker's attitude. They learned not to cater to her," Mrs. Volweider says. "Gaye is a very forceful personality, but when there was a fire drill a child would always be right beside her, and she knew they meant business. Connie Mather and Bill Woodward were always alert to her."

"Most of the time," Judy Sweeney adds, "we forget she is blind."

"PARIS IS AS BEAUTIFUL AS we saw it in class," Gaye Konoover told her French teacher, or on her return from the European tour with the Princeton High School Chorus. One of this year's graduates, she is the first blind student to receive all of her education in the Borough public schools. Story this page.

A Bassy Girl. Gaye has taken leading roles in the school plays, studied the piano, clarinet, violin, guitar and voice and attended school dances. She sang in the Witherspoon glee club and the High School and First Presbyterian Church choirs. She was a feature columnist for the PHS "Tower," a member of the Girl's Athletic Association and the high school Pep Club.

She received the American Legion Award at Witherspoon graduation, Latin awards and school honors at PHS. This year, the Soroptimist Club gave her its Citizenship award, and she was runner-up among 13 entrants for the Soroptimists' Northeast Atlantic Region award.

"Just last week," said Mr. Warwood, "I went to an executive committee meeting of the Cancer Society and who should appear but Gaye - representing the Rainbow Girls!" She explained she'd been accepted by Gettysburg College, where she was going to study music, and that she wouldn't be able to help for a while.

Gaye has worked for Reformation for the Blind, served on the Youth Fellowship Council at her church and, last Christmas, took her guitar to the Neuro - Psychiatric Institute where she entertained the patients with folk songs. "She was just so casual and friendly," Mrs. Lammus remarks.

"I honestly feel," she adds, "that Gaye's success lies with her parents. They wanted her to be considered as a sighted child - to try to go almost anything at all."

Quick in Math. "Her mother said one day that she was teaching Gaye how to iron," Mrs. Sara Harris, her math and science teacher in sixth grade says. "That dear, lovely child, I wouldn't have missed having her in my class for all the world."

"The cute way she used to ask, 'The seeing children,' she'd say. And she was just so fast and quick in math. She could multiply 98 x 76 in her head while everybody else was doing it on paper, and most likely faint first. I have never had a child like Gaye."

None of Gaye's teachers had training in teaching the blind. The first woman she unknowingly educated was Miss Evangeline Miller, head of the Princeton Nursery School on Leigh Avenue.

"I'd love to take her," Miss Miller told Mrs. Konoover, "but we'd have to add another person to the staff." But when she met Gaye a few days later, "I knew I couldn't do without her!" that the school did for Gaye is nothing compared to what Gaye did for us. She was the first of four blind children we have had here.

"She was a very strong-minded young one. I remember that she said to me one day, 'I am going to leave this old school and I am never coming back.'"

"When I told her that 'everybody here loves you, so maybe I should let her go,' she said very firmly, 'Just a minute. Miss Miller, you must remember no matter how mad I get at you, I always love you.'"

Miss Miller thought and said, "Her parents are extraordinary. After all, Gaye with all her brain could have been a bit. I remember her father said on the first day, 'Please don't spoil her.'"

The Teachers Learned. From Leigh Avenue, Gaye went to Mrs. Charlie Potter's kindergarten class at Nassau Street. She progressed to the classroom of Mrs. B. U. H. Griggs. Mrs. Bertha Follins, Mrs. Annette Guenther, Mrs. Lammus and Mrs. Volweider. At Witherspoon, she was taught by Mrs. Helen Darrohn, Larry Ivins and Frank Jaxheimer. She trained them all in her own way.

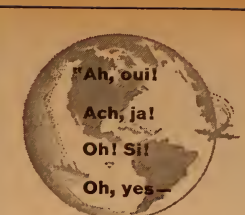

Each classroom was equipped with a special bookcase for Gaye's braille books and recordings. She had her own typewriter for writing and instruments for figuring.

The teachers supplied the N. I. Commission for the Blind with a list of the books required nearly a year before she entered their classes. "And on the first day of school, her books were always ready."

During Nassau Street days, Miss Agnes Stone came from the Commission to regular schedule to teach her basic skills in braille. Blind herself, now married to Jerome Allen and the mother of a child, she made a strong contribution to Gaye's remarkably normal thinking.

As one teacher recalled, Gaye said one day, "You know, my mother and father have been to Poasama and my sister Barbara. But I haven't. Maybe when I get married, I will go there on my honeymoon."

"Success Story." School Superintendent Chester

Stroup has never regretted the day "when Eve Miller invited me into the public school system. This has been a happy success story all the way through... a marvelous experience for all the children and faculty."

"I must say, too, that her parents certainly deserve tremendous credit for the kind of support they gave to the school during this whole undertaking. This is what gave us the confidence to go ahead."

The former principal of the high school, William Rhodes, who is now secretary to the Board of Education, comments, "Gaye is very easy to meet... outgoing and no shrinking violet!"

"If Gaye disagrees," Mr. Rhodes laughs, "her hand goes flying up. She's going to speak her piece. She has no handicap, really. She has toughed all of her problems... No Special Privileges! Her special friends, Beth Maxwell and Judy Supcop, know, "She dislikes special privileges because she's blind. It embarrasses her."

Thomas Hillish, who trains her in the chair, says thoughtfully, "I don't think of her blindness at all. She has lovely soprano voice." His wife, who is Gaye's voice teacher, insists, "She is very competent. Do you know she knits beautifully... and at high speed, of course!"

Her guidance counselor, Mrs. Molly Uptake, who found time to draw geometry figures in braille for Gaye, is fascinated by her choice of harmonious colors in her dress. "I can feel the color when I buy it," Gaye told her.

Her teachers at PHIS have included Catherine Campbell, William Humes, Paul Leopard, Mrs. Harriet Peterson, Joan Groninger, William Anton, Donald Blankenhorn, Claire Raggio, Sylvan Friedman (who also taught her music at the Nassau Street School), George Thompson and Elmer Savage.

A few days ago, in assembly she was sitting with Beth and Judy when the Gold Key award was announced. Miss Florence Burke tapped her on the shoulder and walked part of the way down the aisle with her. Gaye went on alone and stopped.

Joy Breese, president of the Student Council, came down and met her. He walked beside her to the platform where Gaye received the school's highest award.

PRINCETON BANK VICTIM Of "Paperhanger." A "paperhanger," police parlor for worthless check-passer — piled his trade successfully here last week when he cashed a fraudulent $200 check at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company. Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that the description of the passer supplied by the teller fitted that of Harvey Markman who is wanted all over the U.S. for passing worthless checks.

Police said that a man who identified himself as Jack Cohen approached a teller last Tuesday and said he wished to open an account. About an hour later, police continued, Cohen approached the same teller and said he wished to cash a check for $200 drawn on a Trenton Bank and signed by a Dr. Paul Cohen.

Labor, in answer to a call the Trenton bank reported there was no such account.

THREE CARS DAMAGED By Vandals. Three cars were damaged last week by vandals, Borough police report.

Eric Mihan, owner of the English Shop on Nassau Street, reported the antenna and the windshield of his car were damaged while it was parked in the lot at the rear of his store, Sterling Station, 25 Green Street, said the windshield of his car had been broken Thursday between 12:15 and 2:30 p.m. It had been parked in front of 26 Green.

Fercy Tumbler, greenkeeper for the Springdale Golf Club, who lives on the premises, told police the top of his convertible was slashed while it was parked on Palmer Square E. near the taxi stand. He said the slashing occurred sometime Friday night.

COMMENCEMENT HELD
Honorary Degrees Awarded
Princeton University, in ceremonies dating back to Colonial times, awarded 1254 bachelor's advanced and honorary degrees Tuesday in front of Nassau Hall. It was the University's 218th commencement.

Archibald MacLeish, poet, Andrew Wyeth, American painter, and Sir Hugh Taylor, Dean Emeritus of the Princeton Graduate School, were among those who received honorary degrees from President Robert F. Goheen.

Dean J. Merrill Knapp presented to Dr. Goheen the 767 undergraduate candidates for degrees, and Dr. Russell Alfred Fraser, Associate Dean of the Graduate School, presented the candidates for advanced degrees. Among the latter were 50 masters of science in engineering, 18 masters of public affairs, 198 masters of arts, 24 masters of fine arts and 171 doctors of philosophy. Forty-one degrees in the District of Columbia, the Panama Canal Zone and 14 foreign countries were represented in the class of 1965. The list includes 135 from New York State, 191 from New Jersey, 90 from Pennsylvania, 48 from Illinois, 42 from Connecticut, 37 from Ohio, 28 from California and 25 from Virginia.

James F. Oates Jr., Charter Trustee, presented the candidates for honorary degrees, including, besides the three named above, Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; George Seferia, Greek poet and diplomat; Gerard J. Campbell, president of Georgetown University.

Kneuth Onwuka Dike, vice-chancellor of the University of Ibadan, Nigeria; Adrian S. Fisher, executive director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Henry H. Laboulais, executive director of UNICEF and Lord Cardan of St. Cler, permanent British representative to the UN.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE
To Win a Degree. It takes most undergraduates four years to earn a Princeton diploma, which makes it rather unusual for William C. Fuelhart of Warren, Penna., a member of the class of 1925, to have graduated on Tuesday with the class of 1965.

As an undergraduate Mr. Fuelhart majored in history, but lacked one course for his degree. He had planned to take a reading course the following summer, but changed his plans.

Now semi-retired, he requested permission last fall to take a course in "American Government." This permission was granted and he was accredited with a course passed at Edinboro State Teachers College near his home.

Mr. Fuelhart has three sons, all Princeton alumni, and during the weekend he attended the 40th reunion of his own class. Members of his family, including sons and grandchildren, were present for his graduation.

Mr. Fuelhart made a brief speech on Tuesday, to a few low seniors: "It took me 44 years to do what you fellows did in four."

CENTURY COMPLETED
Dr. Reeve to Be Honored.
An achievement of which many men dream but few live to enjoy will become a reality

FAREWELL TO A PAIR OF ALL-AMERICANS: Bill Bradley (left) and Cosmo Iacavazzi, captains of Princeton championship teams in basketball and football, were among 767 seniors who graduated Tuesday. Between them, they set four NCAA, nine Ivy and ten Princeton records in their respective sports. For a picture of them engaging in a bit of pre-commencement fun, see page 15. (Alan Richards Photo)

This Thursday for Dr. Naivern Lee in Rocky Hill as a county doctor, a parade will leave his home on Crescent Avenue. He will follow in an open car with Mayor Eisenmann and members of Borough Council.

A founder of the Rocky Hill Hook & Ladder Co. in 1902 and its only living charter member, Dr. Reeve will be honored by members of the company who will join the parade with their fire-fighting equipment. One of the pieces of apparatus will be its first the time of the theft, he had been teaching a class in sum-mering. Mr. Springer said.

Mr. Springer told investigative police that he had not killed two juveniles hitting near his office. They were later picked up by Sergeant James Kooliner, juvenile officer, who was able to recover half of the money from one boy. Police are still trying to obtain the rest from the second youth.

PUPPET SHOW SET

For Wednesday. There will be a 1:30 p.m. showing of "Lancel and Gretel" on Wednesday June 23, at the Princeton Playhouse, marking the last day of school. Set to the enchanting music of Humper-dink, the full-length, color film is a marionette version of the childhood classic.

The film, winner of Parents' Magazine's medal as movie of the month, was produced by Michael Meyerberg, who brought "Lute Song" and
"The Skin of Our Teeth" to Broadway. Comedienne Anna Russell, whose voice is heard in the part of the witch, provides much laughter, yet she is scary enough in the time-honored tradition.

GET $3000 IN LOOT

In Pennington Robbery. Early last Wednesday morning robbers broke into the Twin Pines Sales & Service Shop at 14 North Main Street, Pennington and escaped with numerous electrical appliances valued at $3000. A small amount of cash was also taken.

The theft was discovered in the morning by owner William Weasner. Among the items he listed as taken were three air-conditioners, four or five televisions, 12 transistor radios and several electric toasters and table recorders.

Before breaking a rear bathroom window of the store to gain entry the burglars first killed a neighbor's dog by smashing his skull with a blunt instrument. After disposing of the dog they then cut telephone wires leading to the store.

State Police Trainers Albert Walton and Jack Caldaro are conducting the investigation.
Police believe the dog was familiar with his attackers because neighbors in the area reported they did not hear any barking.

Meet our Mr. Lowe and young friends

The friendly banker is well represented by our John V. Lowe. As you can see he is showing a group of youngsters the famous money order and will be at the Hopewell Office of the Princeton Bank and another part of the friendly banker is the police service in performance. Mr. Lowe, for instance, recently received the American Red Cross National Service Medal for over five years of continuous and outstanding volunteer service, the highest award given by the Red Cross.

Mr. Lowe also serves in many other community groups and has for years. As Assistant Manager of the Hopewell Office, he handles bank customers in the same friendly and thorough manner he applies to showing his young friends the workings of the bank and completing assignments for the Red Cross.
The Princeton Bank is proud of the public service record of its officers and employees.
It is this same kind of active interest in the community that helps make a great bank — a constructive and helpful bank.

UNITED NATIONS DEFENDED: Eugene Maybury's confidence in the ability of the United Nations to maintain peace has not been shaken. Less sanguine opinions were offered by half of those asked whether their confidence in the U.N. has diminished. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Has your confidence in the ability of the United Nations to maintain peace diminished?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Eugene Maybury, 39 Humbert Street, special traffic officer, Borough: No, not at all. I still feel the U.N. can do the job. It's doing a good job with what it's got, considering all the restrictions and lack of cooperation it must contend with. I think we have to have confidence in them; we still depend on them more than anyone else to keep the peace.

Alena Hartley, 811 State Road, tree surgeon: Yes, very much so. I don't believe it has achieved what it's supposed to achieve. Seems to me to be more of a debating society than anything else.

Dill Jones, New York City, jazz musician, here to play during reunion weekend: No, not really. I think they're still trying and, in trying, there is always some hope. At least the United Nations is a civilized organization. It stands for something important. I'm still encouraged.

Richard Sascione, 418 Devereux Street, graduate student, chemistry: No, it hasn't. As far as the rest of the actions of the world go, I feel they do look toward the United Nations as being an international, impartial body where they can settle debates. This is much preferable to fighting it out, as you can see by Cyprus and the Dominican Republic. Although its effectiveness has been handicapped by the two great powers—Russia and the United States—through their use of the veto power in the Security Council, some of its functions have been effective in maintaining peace. Witness the Congo and even the Cuban military crisis. If the great powers would stop trying to manipulate the U.N. and treat it as a representative international body, it would be even more effective.

Miss Priscilla Waring, Carter Road, June graduate, Georgetown University, foreign service school: Yes, it has. I feel it has dropped primarily due to the lack of strong leadership it had under Dag Hammarskjöld and due to a general lack of desire on the part of our fellow nations to cooperate under the aegis of the United Nations, such as not paying their dues.

Charles Higgins, Princeton Pike, teacher: No, I don't think so. I feel the situation might work a little harder at present but I feel the U.N. does as much as can be expected. It's working to capacity. It is hamstrung so much it is difficult for it to accomplish as much as people would hope.

Mrs. Nadine Collinson, 347 Mercer Road, housewife: Sometimes I feel it is all right but then I talk with friends from overseas and they feel it doesn't have any effect and my opinion drops. Then again, whenever we have some kind of crisis and they lean on the United Nations and we come out of it, my faith is restored. I've often asked myself, "How do I stand on the U.N.?" and I blow hot and cold. Right now I feel good about it.

Roy Birkenlund, Sunset Hill, minister: Yes, definitely so. I believe the United Nations is primarily a debating society at the present time and I don't believe we can expect world peace apart from the fact of individuals and nations recognizing there are spiritual values they must give with in addition to social, economic and political needs. I believe the U.N. reflects the basic weakness of man in general because it was established by man and reflects the thinking of man. The problem, basically is this: International peace and brotherhood cannot really be brought about until men recognize on an individual basis the relevancy of Jesus Christ to their own lives. Only a minority in the world have done this.

Mrs. Claude Labrie, 44 Alexander Street, native of Brazil whose husband is attending the Theological Seminary: I feel very good about the United Nations. I feel the world needs it and I would feel very bad for the world if it ceased to be. I think the United States must give all the support it can to it. I still feel the U.N. can accomplish a lot—it has already. I still have a lot of faith in it and I believe most Brazilians do, too.

H. F. Barbour, Skillman, operating engineer: Yes, I'm afraid so. It didn't do very well trying to get the Dominican situation straightened out. Also, the Viet Nam thing isn't very good. Yes, it's lost some of its effectiveness, in my opinion.

John Brennan, 497 Prospect Street, architect: Not diminished because I feel it never had too many teeth in it as a peace-making organization. It wasn't well organized for that right from the beginning. I certainly wouldn't give it a lot of credit for that. It's too slow and it will never be strong so long as the veto power remains the way it is.

Tom Pearson, student, Theological Seminary: No, not over the last six months. I don't believe anything significant has happened since then. But, if you go back six to eight years, since the Korean War, there were many occasions for significant action. Since then, the U.N. hasn't done anything.

IT'S NEW To Us

YOUR POOL AUTOMATED?
Take the Plunge. They were telling us out at Sylvan Pools' Shopping Center Office the other day that home swimming pools have never required less work to maintain than they do in 1963 and that the most exercise a pool owner is likely to get this summer is a large crane from one end of his pool to another.

It's all because of automation, chiefly along the line of improved filters, cleaners and chlorinators. You take that old-style filter, the big one you had with your 1955 pool, and you lose it out, because Sylvan's improved filter can be housed in a deckside chest which is ship-shape enough to be used as a decorative seat.

Inside the chest, the new filters turn the water over faster, filtering out dirt while it is still in suspension before it has had a chance to settle on the walls and floor of the pool. Brushing and vacuuming are almost eliminated by the new Sylvan automatic cleaning devices. The swirl-clean system uses two filters, one at each end of the pool, two surface skimmers and two drains to increase water velocity.

Another Sylvan system uses bouys which sweep around the pool, dislodging the dirt, and another has floating devices which are used for the same purpose.

It used to be that automatic chlorinators were used only in the big commercial swimming pools, but Sylvan now has them adapted for residential pools.

One kind converts ordinary table salt into chlorine by electrolysis (remember 80¢).

Swim Ahead

You may think it's June and indeed it is, but do you remember how long it took you, the last time you made a tailored wool suit?

With you in mind, the Fabric Shop on Chambers Street has begun to stock its fall and winter wools, and the next time the humidity goes to 90, we suggest a stop-over and a planning session.

At the moment, the selection is very small, of course, but who knows? Perhaps you'll find a better view of your life the first time you look.

grade science?); another feeds chlorine in either liquid or powdered form gradually into the pool by means of a pump and a third sends streams of water over sticks of Daxan chemicals, eroding the chemical right into the water.

Leaving automation for a moment, have you thought of cool nights next fall and a dip before dinner? In case you hint we've been dizzied by the heat, let us tell you right now that Sylvan installs heaters on 75% of the pools it builds, and these heated pools can be used about twice as long, over the year, as pools without heat waves. Good pool heaters will raise the water temperature as much as 20 degrees.

Anyone for a steam bath?

GOING TO CAMP?

Allen's is, "Tough" is the word used most frequently to describe the bear-rundled outfit to summer camp. Normally dolic like boys and girls apparently become snarling, tearing beasts once they arrive in Camp Wannag-Bloom, and Allen's at 134 Nassau, is equipped with the toughest clothes in town for the town's toughest campers.

Start with the boys' khaki camp shorts, boxer backed with great pockets to hold their trunks and junior counselors. A vest pocket, a slant zipper pocket, a clamp for flashlight and a good strong belt complete the costume. $2.02 to size 16.

There are also dark blue denims, green and "white" pale tan for boys—and girls—with different aesthetic requirements.

Yellow slickers with hoods are tougher than oilskin and completely washable. They are made for boys and girls, and girls who want style, even around a campfire, will pick the "wet look" suits with those big industrial zippers down the front.

Boy's shirts this summer are Henley, and nothing else but. The Henley shirt is white cotton print trimmed with navy or red, six-inch black and orange stripe, just to name two, with the characteristic pajama-style neckline and no collar. Big maw, big.

Heavy ski pajamas for boys up to size 20, or flannel, in the same range, will take care.

PEOPLE IN WAR: Irina Demick and Cliff Robertson appear in a tale of a war-torn village in Normandy in "Up From the Beach," now at the Playhouse.

News Of The Theatres
 (Wayne, one of the brightest new comics.
PLAYHOUSE
 "Up From the Beach (thru Sat.) On the day after the Allies land in France, a GI sergeant (Cliff Robertson) and a private (Red Buttons) help liberate some villagers held hostage by the German SS troops. All of the Germans are killed except the major who has been town commandant for the past three years. The villagers' attitude toward the major (played by Marlon Brando) is that he was just another man trying to do the best he could and they state that he had helped 15 resistance fighters escape.
 This is a routine war film with a different type of German prisoner added for spice.
 High Wind in Jamaica (Sun. thru Tues.) This is a hostile tale of savage, uncaring children, living in a world of their own. The screenplay is based on Richard Hughes' novel.
 Five youngsters, whose home in Jamaica has been leveled by a hurricane, are sent to England for schooling. A few days out, the ship is captured by pirates headed by Captain Anthony Quinn. The children, plus the adults, are accidentally locked in the ship's hold, and they terrify the superstitious crew. A child later falls to his death, there is a mutiny, a kidnapping, and a court trial for murder.
 Of the entire cast, only Quinn has a fairly sympathetic part, showing at times a sense of responsibility for the children. Deborah Baxter, one of the child actors, is a reminder of Hayley Mills when she was a 10-year-old.
GARDEN
 The Battle of the Villa Fiori (thru Tues.) A lushly produced tale of infidelity and mother love.
 Maureen O'Hara is the beautiful wife of English diplomat Richard Todd, who falls in love with an Italian composer, played by Rossano Brazzi. It may be a great love affair but it plays with a leer for every romantic sigh. The lovers go to his luxurious villa in Italy, with her husband's permission, and her precocious children arrive to try to break it up.

 There are moments of humor as well as some tragedy, but this soap opera can't seem to make up its mind whether to play for laughs or tears.
COWARD ON VIEW
 "Hay Fever" A smash hit in its current London revival, Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" will continue at the Bucks County Playhouse, New Hope, through Saturday, June 26. Edward Parone has directed Margaret Phillips, Donald Davis, Burt Brinckerhoff, John McMartin and Margaret Hamilton in the comedy.
 After Coward has left them in the aisles, the Playhouse will continue in the comic vein with "A Thurbur Carnival," starting June 28.
 Full of "Thurburisms" and vignettes that include excerpts from Walter Mitty and the tale of "The Unicorn in the Garden," "A Thurbur Carnival" will star Eddie Bracken and Dody Goodman. Timmy Brown, halfback for the Philadelphia Eagles, will make his theatrical debut in "A Thurbur Carnival."

ON THE WAY
 At Lambertville. With a book by Plautus and music and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim, now can it miss? "It of course, is "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," the musical comedy with the title longer than the first act.
 I will play the Lambertville Movie Circus through Sunday, July 1, with performances Tuesday through Fridays at 8:30, Saturdays at 6 and 9:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m.
 In the Lambertville production, Louis Criscuolo will play Pseudolus, Carl Don will be Senex, Christine Norden will portray Domina, Richard Kinter will be Hysterium and Bob Roman, Miles Gloriosus.

Thigh-length terry popovers cover up "apex swim" and become a hooded terry jacket with narrow red trim masculinity.

Dunkin shorts are helena stretch in all colors and "Dunkin" matching sleeveless shirts are the greatest bob to summer. Laundry since daron. Size: 3-14.

Allen's happiest summer toy is the bell-shaped V-neck, $2, reversible to denim. Boys and girls.

And did we mention laundry? Denim, for camp, at $1.99.

NO SLIP
With Heavy Cottons. Underneath the underpinning industry. The Fabric Shop on Chalkwhite Street flings out bolts of poplin-like cottons so closely woven that a slip is unnecessary on warm summer days.

Make a shift, wrap, skirt or shorts from any of these daisies. If you're tall and dunsie, you can carry the black cotton with chalk-white and tobacco daisies big as platters. A Tiffany glass print of blue white and olive flowers, each outlined with black, is another one for the big girls.

Narrow evening stripes of black, avocado and white could be worn by anybody. We like this fabric especially because the stripes vary in width so that monotony doesn't have a chance.

Another stripe that comes and goes in widths is red-navy-white and still a third is royal-blue-gold-white.

A white pique has dazzling red leaves and its male has black leaves. You could make a mere demure shift from the white pique with its black daisies. If Tiffany glass is not your style.

For a conservative "town" dress this summer, the Dunkin's Street Fabric Shop suggests one of its dark nubby cottons, perhaps the "street," real or deep olive, or the chambray in bronze or rust.

For strawberries are pale yellow or pink and delightful flowered cottons are a pastel garden for summer afternoon.

For a big buy big shoppers at The Fabric Shop if they aren't all sold out by now.

Topics Of The Town

LIONS CLUB NOTES
Klink New President, President Nathaniel McKee of the Princeton Lions Club has dan-summarized the club's highlights during the past year.

The three annual fund raising projects — fertility and brown sales and a benefit — were very successful, clinic, which complements the (treatment) services donated by honorary member Dr.

Henry Abrams, and granting four-year scholarships to two students at Princeton High School. Contributions were made to Delaware Valley Eye Bank and Camp Happiness
for the Blind.

Additional activities were the Christmas party and show for the children of Skillman Village. Christmas baskets Christmas carding and movie
in cooperation with Palmer Square and Easter egg hunts for Princeton children and at Skillman village. In addition, a special contribution of $2,000 was given to Princeton Hospital.

SIXTEEN ARE FINED
In Borough Court, sixteen Princeton area residents were among the more than 20 fined Monday night by Borough
Magistrate Theodore T. Tims
Jr., during a busy session which lasted until 1 a.m. Thirteen fines stemmed from traffic violations.

Three were fined for careless driving — William D.
Hammer, 18, 67 Locust Lane,
and Mrs. Anne A. Cahill, 65, 10 Pelham Street, both $15, and Matthew N. Nicoll, 18, 247
Western Way, $25. In addition,
Mr. Nicoll's license was revoked for 30 days. Mrs. Cahill's license was suspended until she passed a re-examination by the Motor Vehicle Department.

Robert O. Smyth, 22, 321
Nassau Street, was fined twice: $15 as an unlicensed driver and $12 for a stop-sign infraction. Improper passing violations drew $15 fines for Lee P. Neuwirth, 31, Province Line Road, and Frederick F.
Petronio, 20, 5 Humbert Lane.
Also fined $15 each were James G. Woodward, 21, 27
Southern Way, improper display of plates; Mrs. Margaret E. Broadwater, 22, 65 Harrison Street, failure to yield at an intersection; Robert E. J. L.
Schmidt, 25, 216 Hodge Hall, Princeton Seminary, unregistered vehicle; and Miss Charlotte R. Raymond, 21, Cherry Valley Road, allowing passengers to ride in a manner not intended.

Other drivers fined were Roger C. Mills, 61 Prospect Avenue, $30 for speeding;
Karen J. Morrow, 19, 121
Birch Avenue, $12 for "red light" violation; and Richard R. Hagadorn, 17, 20 Vandeventer Avenue, $10 for driving with an unlighted license plate.

Crasher Fined $25. In criminal court, James H. Case, 19, Route 206, Skillman, was fined $25, after pleading guilty to a disorderly person charge.
Police had charged Case with trespassing and loitering at the campus reunion site of the University Class of 1953. Police added that Case had stolen a Class of '55 costume and kept returning to its reunion, despite repeated warning from Lt. Francis Maguire.

Another non-alumnus was releaved in $500 bail after he was found at 5 a.m. Sunday morning in Edwards Hall under the influence of alcohol.
Edward L. Silva Jr., 21, of Trenton, a former Princeton resident, was charged with loitering.

A second charge of malicious mischief was lodged when Silvix ripped out the mechanism of the toilet in his cell located in the basement of Borough Hall. A third charge was added when the defendant directed offensive and abusive language toward police officers and shouted threats at them.

Colin Leitch, 18, 100 Broadwood, was ordered to pay $10 court costs after he withdrew a charge of assault he had made against Richard Tufano, 273 Witherspoon Street. In his complaint, Leitch told police that Mr. Tufano had pulled a pen knife out of his pocket during an altercation between them.

$423,478 IS GOAL
Of United Fund—Red Cross. The Princeton area United Fund — Red Cross campaign goal for 1966 has been set at $423,478. This represents an increase of $38,155 — or 10% — over 1965.

The goal is the result of weeks of study of the budgets and needs of the various agencies which the United Fund serves. The Board of Trustees for the Fund reviewed the detailed budget committee report presented by chairman Max D. Blumenfeld, and the Red Cross budget as reviewed by the joint United Fund—Red Cross Committee.

A comprehensive report was presented by Philip Mita, chairman of the Citizens' Committee of Progress as was a report of the Central Services Panel. A special allocation was established for the budgetary need of the Council of Community Services in 1966 subject to final approval by the trustees.

Agency allocations for 1966 are as follows: Princeton Hospital, $30,000; George Washington Council Boy Scouts, $17,000; Cerebral Palsy Association, $2,000; Children's Home Society of N. J., $2,911; Hightstown YMCA, $8,126; Mercer Girl Scouts, $8,000; Retarded Children's Association, $4,500; Visiting Nurse Association, $10,085; and Home Service, $7,787.

Also, USO Mercer Service Center, $1,900; Child Guidance Center, $31,500; Family Service Agency, $43,127; Mental Health Association, $7,000; Princeton Nursery School, $25,000; U.S.O. National, $2,000; Princeton YMCA, $41,000; Princeton Y WCA, $10,000; Social Work Education, $80; and Montgomery Township Community Chest, $5,420. Also, Agency reserve for repairs & replacement, $5,000; United Fund—Red Cross Campaign, $18,438; Hightstown Better Beginnings Program, $5,000; Future Reserve for Council of

Garden Tips

How Much To Water —

Many trees, particularly those planted last year, are dying or will die unless properly cared for. Rainfall during the critical months of March, April and May was considerably below normal. This is the time when trees need moisture to put on new growth. Far too few homeowners, however, gave their trees supplemental watering during this period. Even if a tree leaved out, you can't be sure it will survive this summer.

To help save these trees, shrubs and evergreens, make a basin around the base of each and soak thoroughly, anywhere from a depth of 12 to 18" and deeper for larger trees. Next fill the basin with a mulch 4 to 6" deep using salt hay, wood chips, peat moss, straw or similar material.

With a mulch of this depth, a thorough soaking every two weeks will be enough to assure proper growth for the season. Light daily sprinkling can be dangerous since it encourages root growth toward the surface and increases the chances for winter damage.

Make Dad a King on Father's Day with a Floating Chaise from Sylvan

All summer long dad will thank you as he stays cool in the water lounging on his floating chaise from Sylvan. Made of polished aluminum tubing with white and aqua saran webbing, the Ethafoam flotation is firmly secured with vinyl. It's lightweight, yet holds a 250-pounder. Folds easily for storage. (Sorry, dad, the model's not included).

Or give dad a Sylvan floating chair. The folding chair is made of natural aluminum with heavy duty saran webbing, and the Ethafoam flotation is secured with vinyl.

Another great gift for dad is the Sylvan aqua lounge. The aluminum and foam frame is covered with heavy vinyl coated canvas. The jacket is water repellent, mildew treated with solid brass zippers for changing the jacket in seconds.

This modern 90-bed Center provides—at reasonable cost—the most comprehensive nursing care available anywhere, combined with facilities and services usually associated only with hospitals.

"but already it is assumed that the 1964-65 will be marked as a memorable year in the history of giving to Princeton."

Mr. Brown also reported that "Princeton alumni again played their customary central role in annual giving, by providing leadership and by raising the equivalent of the income on fifty million dollars' worth of endowment." The alumni surpassed their former high by a quarter of a million dollars, with forty classes setting new records and four topping the $60,000 mark. Seven major reunion classes — 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930, 1935, 1940 and 1950 — established all-time records for their respective reunion years.

MISS CLARK WINS AWARD

COMMITTEE IS FORMED

To Aid in Education Crisis, A Citizens Committee for Higher Education in New Jersey was formed as a first step toward solving the mounting problems in New Jersey's educational system. Named chairman of the Committee is Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University and a founder of the group. Goheen described the state's crisis in education as "most urgent" and the "single most important problem, and opportunity, facing New Jersey today."

The Citizens Committee will ultimately number between 75 and 100 members. Membership will represent a blend of leadership of every major segment of the New Jersey Community. Members of the committee from this area in addition to Dr. Goheen, include Henry Chauncey, President of Educational Testing Service; Elmer W. Engstrom, President of RCA; William M. Marvel, 141 Dods Lane, President, Education and World Affairs; James P. Stewart, 128 Mercer Street, President, DeLaval Turbine, Inc. and Mrs. Penny Kerney McNeil, Lawrenceville Road, President, Trenton Times.

In addressing a gathering of the founding members in Newark, Dr. Goheen cited the following figures:

- This year, 5,000 qualified students were rejected for admission to the residential colleges of Rutgers, The State University . . . 25% higher than the year before
- Rutgers and the State Colleges are finding it possible to accept only 25 to 35 percent of the qualified applicants seeking admission into next fall's freshman class.
- As recently as 1957, 97 percent of the state's students were obliged to go outside of the state for their college education.
- The year which ranks seventh among the states in per capita personal income, ranks 47th in per capita expenditures on public education.

Dr. Goheen said the objectives of the Citizens Committee would be to insure that citizens are aware of the mounting crisis in state education, to make sure no citizen with children below college age remains unaware of his obligation to demand adequate educational opportunities for them and to urge support measures which promise improvement in the quality and quantity of public higher education. He stressed the Committee's intention "to insist on action and resist inaction."

"THAT'S UP, MAN!"

Paratrooper Signs In. "When you open up the sides of the plane, and the air comes in like a wolf pack, and you see the ground and the farms from the doorway, you're kind of built up in the spirit of it. When you jump, you get this great feeling."

An 18-year-old paratrooper, Tower Hubble of 175 Nassau Street, son of Harmon E. Hubble, came home on leave last weekend. He's a member of the experimental 11th Air Assault Division, the youngest man in the 107th Airborne Battalion.

A former acolyte at Trinity Church, Boy Scout Troop 30's onetime highest scoring member, and a former lifeguard, Tower called it quits at Princeton High School last year and, after eight months of hitchhiking around the country, enlisted in the Army on October 19, 1964. He was a few days over the minimum age.

"The Army is the best thing I could have done," he said on Monday, collapsing his last 62" into a lawn chair. "Basic training was hard for me, because I wasn't really functioning. When I went to airborne school it was tough, but I was beginning to get with it."

"The DI can't get blood out of a stone, but he can get blood out of you," he continued ruefully. "Some of them are nice guys. They have a job to do—and they do it. When you realize that you have a job to do, then you're all right." Running his hand through his blood hair, he added,

"You apply as much of your potential as you possibly can. When you get to the point that you say, 'I'm gonna go as far as you can go, you're what they're looking for.'"

Officers' Candidate. Behind him are eight months of training at Ft. Dix. Ft. Benning and Ft. Stewart. He passed tests for Officers' Candidates' School and hopes to get into flight school sometime.

"I'm planning on going, but for me to go right now is a farce, same as if I go to college now. I'm not ready for it. A lot of kids are just playing with their opportunities. They don't mean to—they just don't realize it. Get yourself built, man, before you're on your way."

A great reader, he solved the monotony and strain of Army drills by "thinking of something else, sometimes I've read, maybe. We sing a lot of songs, and I can sing along with my mind a mile off."

As for food, "They give you 3,600 calories a day minimum—but what you eat to get them, especially in the field, you never know, man! They'll give you three week's food in a can."

"YOU REALLY PUSH YOURSELF in the Army," says Pvt. Tower Hubble, 18, of the 117th Airborne. "Especially on these endurance runs. You go at a hard pace, in a formation. You get to the point where you can lift your legs, but you can't get them stretched out for the next step. Then you look at the so-and-so to front of you. If he can make it, you can." Story this page.

In garrison, the food is plain, but not bad.

The 11th Air Assault, Tower explained with a glint in his blue-green eyes, has just completed its experimental stage. The unit is combat ready.

"In a regular infantry division, you'll be trucked as far as you can be, then you get out and march. In the 11th Air Assault, you're flown in helicopters and delivered to your objective either by parachute or repel. They want it there in a hurry."

Repel means by a 100-ft. nylon rope, and it stretches about one-third of its length. You wear an asbestos glove to control it. This is really an experience! It's great!"

"Land Like A Rock." A member of a reconnaissance platoon, he jumps with a 35-bb. 90 mm recoilless rifle "The whole thing is barrel" and nine pounds of ammunition weighing 9 lbs. each. "You hit like a rock. Actually, the more equipment you have on, the more it absorbs the jolt."

He has just returned from five days of maneuvers in the Georgia swamps. "Just like the jungle, man. It's a survival test. They dropped rations and we couldn't find them. They blew their cool left and right!"

At Ft. Benning, "I met marines, frogmen, everybody. When these marines get to jump school, they grunt like anybody else! You start jumping from 34-ft. towers, then you go to 1,200 from C-130 troop transports, or from C-119 flying box cars when you're

War-Time Money on Collection

A unique collection of money earned during the war by both the Allies and the enemy in the invasion and occupation of other countries and used in concentration and prisoner of war camps during World War II is on display in the lobby of the main office of the First National Bank.

The collection of allid occupational and invasion notes includes more than 20 different currency issues from the U.S. "Yellow peel" notes first issued in the invasion of North Africa and still in circulation until worn out — to Japanese military notes issued in guildders, sterling, dollars and pesos. Prisoner of war and concentration camp notes, including Wehrmacht prisoner camp marks issued to Allied forces by Nazis as payment for war pay, are also on display.

Also included are De-Gaullist francs, issued by the Free French Government, Philippine "Victory" sacks, issued to the invasion forces of General Douglas MacArthur and other Allied notes for the D-Day and Sicily invasions. This is the first time that this collection, owned by the First National City Bank of New York, has been exhibited.

PUTOUT IN REVERSE: Yale's first baseman, Bob Bartlett, is actually tagging first from foul territory. When Dan Adams, Princeton runner starting his slide, hit sharply to him in Saturday's game, Bartlett fielded the ball and then shot across the bag off balance. He failed to touch it, but beat Adams back to it by a couple of steps. Tigers rallied to win, 4-3. (Tim Hoadler Photo)

In Princeton

"DID IT HURT MUCH, DAD?" "Not Really, Son." In the 248 Yale-Princeton baseball game held before last Saturday, there had been many occasions when one player became a hero by bringing in the winning run in some spectacular fashion. Breaking up tie ball games in the last of the ninth have been such feats as a suicide squeeze play, a ringing double that kicked up chalk far down the left-field foul line and a home run with two aboard that snatched defeat from victory. Taking his place with those of bygone years who have been responsible for providing the climax to winning rallies is Princeton shortstop Joe Sisco. Five or ten years from now, when Sisco tells his son that he drove in the run that beat Yale, 4 to 3, back in '85, he can add that he did it with his heel rather than with his bat.

Frank Biondi trotted across the plate to seal the Tiger triumph when Eli Hunter Don Raymond's first pitch in a bases-loaded situation banded Sisco squarely on the back of his right foot. It was momentarily painful, but the Princeton senior covered the 90 feet to first base without a noticeable limp, and that was the ball game.

It was also the fourth Princeton run to cross the plate during the drawn-out contest without the aid of a hit. The victors got only six off the three Yale pitchers who split the mound chatters that afternoon, and none scored a runner. An even dozen wearers of Orange and Black Princeton's 194th triumph in the long series that began a century ago.

Tigers Take Early Lead. The home team got half its hits in the first inning, but still managed only one run. Frank Biondi, Wally Uhle and Captain Jack Singer singled in succession to fill the bases with Princeton, but the lone rally to cross the plate was achieved on a walk to Sisco.

Another run followed in the second, Dan Adams completing the circuit after he walked, on a sacrifice, a fielder's choice and a fly to right by Singer. The knicker starter Tom Scott out of the box in the fifth, but Princeton appeared to have taken a major step toward victory when it pushed over a run in the last of the eighth, this one coming in on a bases-filled walk to catcher Tom Peppier.

However, sophomore Graham Marcott, who had been giving a strong relief performance, ran into trouble in the ninth. A sharp single to right with three Yalies aboard scored one, and the go-ahead run was erased at the plate only on a fine two-hop throw by Singer.

Biondi opened the last of the ninth with a double to right center and Uhle was intentionally passed. Singer sacrificed them along and pinch-hitter Joe Luongo was purposely passed, setting up the three-aboard situation that put the hero's mangle on Joe Sisco when he was hit on the heel by the next pitch.

Next Year? The triumph gave Princeton the Big Three title in baseball and a surprisingly fine season's record of 21 and 6. All three of the pitchers who were responsible for 20 of the victories (third baseman Wally Uhle won one game as a converted pitcher in Florida) will return next spring, giving

Over 65?

$200 a month extra can be yours for life!

No pipe-dream this—but the guaranteed reality of a Manufacturers' Life Annuity. Whether you live for five years or twenty-five or more, you'll get an additional check for $200 every month.

Let's face it—you've put in a lot of hard work over the past forty years or so. Your retirement years are your reward. The finest way to enjoy your retirement is to have an adequate and worry-free income. The best way to achieve this is to buy a Manufacturers' Life Annuity.

You hand over to Manufacturers' Life the worry and risk of maintaining an income. Through the annuity arrangement your capital and the interest it earns are "scientifically" combined to give you a guaranteed income for the rest of your life.

How much does an annuity cost? It depends on the income you need to carry out your dreams and plans for those years after 65. For example, the lifetime monthly income of $200 we were talking about would cost a man of 65 only $36,920.

It's well looking into. The Man from Manufacturers has all the details. Give him a call today.

rise to speculation that the Tigers will have another fine season.

It could be, since there is strength down the middle with Peppier already a veteran sophomore catcher. Scott, Marcot and John Redpath better-than-average pitchers. Captain-elect Ron Landeck set to replace Suco at short. Adams back at second as a junior and Frank Biondi, a standout on defense, available for his third year in center.

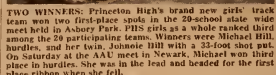

The question, however, is how much the loss of the team's only 100 hitters—Uile and Singer—will do to place even more of a burden on the Tigers. One who could buy a base hit at the right time, and the number of potential runs left on second and third was astronomical.

No one—except Uile and Singer—was 100 in Eastern League play; no Princeton player was named to the first team chosen at the end of the season. Uile and Singer earning positions on the second nine because replacements of their ability are unlikely to be found, even the wild pitching that the Tigers should have next year is unlikely to achieve repetition of this season's fine 21-42-8 mark, and second place in both the Eastern League and the NCAA District II Tournament.

CREW AT SYRACUSE

National Regatta Saturday. All three Princeton crews will row Saturday in the national regatta to be staged on Lake Onondaga at Syracuse.

While the distance is three miles, based on the Eastern Sprint Championships last month over a 2,000-meter course, there appears to be little hope for a strong showing by the Tigers. None of the Princeton heavyweight boats qualified for the six-crew finals in the sprints.

TWO WINNERS: Princeton High's brand new girls' track team won two first-place spots in the 25-second state mile meet held at Ashbury Park. PHS girls as a whole ranked third among the 20 participating teams. Winners were Michael Hill, hurdler, and her twin, Joanne Hill with a 55-foot shot put. On Saturday at the AAU meet in Newark, Michael won third place in hurdles. She was in the lead and headed for the first place ribbon when the fell.

SPECIALIST IS HONORED
Don Roth a 7-Letterman. A quarter-century ago, it was not uncommon for a class to produce half a dozen athletes who won letters in three sports. It was not so much a question of athletic ability as the fact that less rigorous academic requirements made year-round participation in sports perfectly feasible.

Today, however, the athlete who finds time to hold membership on three teams and still maintain satisfactory grades is a true rarity. The class of 1963 had just one, but Don Roth was so adept at what he did that on Monday they gave him a special trophy to symbolize his accomplishments.

The 22-year old resident of Bethesda, Md., was a member of seven championship Ivy League teams during his three varsity years, and he was a defensive standout on each. He won a letter each winter that the Tigers captured the Ivy crown in basketball, frequently being assigned to guard a high scorer in the back court.

Roth played junior varsity football as a sophomore, but earned a starting berth on the varsity the following year. Last fall, he drew All-Ivy recognition as a corner back on the Tiger team that won them all.

Although he had never played lacrosse before, he went out for the sport in his junior year and under Ferns Thomson's coaching won a letter as a defenseman. He repeated this past spring, and in each of

GIANTS WIN SERIES
In YMCA Midget League
For the sixth consecutive year, the Giants are the champions of the Princeton YMCA Midget Baseball League. They defeated the Orioles, 3-2, Friday in the final game of a best-of-three world series.

Mark Anderson was the winning pitcher in relief of Dick Jackson. Carlos Nanni, the first of three Oriole hurlers, was the loser. Scott Richardson and Dick Sward finished up.

After scoring two in the first, the Giants appeared to be firmly in the driver's seat as they pelted away to build up a 5-0 margin. Then in their last at-bat, the Orioles loaded the bases on a error, a walk and a hit by Scott Anderson.

With two down, Hugh Fitzpatrick batted a long single to center, scoring Roger Setzler and Mitch Schuch. The aprising died when Anderson, trying to score from third, was cut down at the plate on a great pep from centerfielder John Petrone.

On Wednesday the Giants recovered from a shaky series start by trouncing the Orioles in the second game, 12-6.

To qualify, participants must still be eligible to play in 16-and-under tournaments, and have demonstrated an interest and ability for competitive play. Miss Endersby has earned a MISLA ranking in the 16-and-under division for her play in tournaments last season.

In other tennis news, the Community Tennis Program has announced that all junior leaders are welcome to attend an organizational meeting next Thursday from noon to 1:30. It will be held at the backboards of the university courts, or if it rains, in the all-purpose room of the YMCA.

Operator Lorraine T. Cross: tracer of missing persons

Mr. H. W. Haldeman wrote us:

"On Thursday morning of this past week I was in Camden on business and received a call from my secretary advising me that my sister out in San Francisco had called me at the office to say she was rushing to the hospital — her husband had just been involved in a very serious accident. Unfortunately in her distraught condition, she failed to give my secretary the name of the hospital before she hung up, so I had very little information to go on.

"I called the local operator and told her my problem, saying I could give her nothing but my brother-in-law's name and that he must be in an emergency ward somewhere in San Francisco. She was most cooperative, and assured me she would do everything possible. To make a long story short, this remarkable young lady of yours had me connected to the doctor in the particular hospital who was in charge of the case in no more than 20 minutes. Armed with such meager information as she was, I think this was an outstanding example of efficiency and service!

"I trust that you will be able to see that she receives a 'well done' for her excellent detective work over the long line. I am always appreciative of special service — this I believe was a most outstanding example."

At New Jersey Bell all our operators know we believe in giving that extra bit of special service. After all, the best possible phone service — that's our job.

"HERE WE GO AGAIN!"

Building at Balcor, that is. Many houses are already up, but the deer and the pheasant still play in the lovely wooded, rockstrewn area. Enough of lycrism, down to facts.

Nine 1 1/2 acre lots were opened up in 1964; all nine were snapped up in record time. In 1965 the remaining ten will be on the market. Need we do more than hint? We know of no building sites in Princeton proper available now or in the foreseeable future to compare with Balcor in location, appeal or price."

THIS AD APPEARED LATE IN 1964. AS OF JUNE, 1965 THERE ARE THREE LOTS STILL AVAILABLE.
Need we do more than hint? If you will bring your house plans or ideas to us, you can have a finished house in time for the football season!

THERE'S NO OTHER HOUSE LIKE

THIS ONE on the market in the Princeton, or any other area, that we know of. If you adore split level, center hall Colonials, compact ranch houses, you'll have this one of each. It offers a combination of casual charm, superb possibilities for variations on the theme, and a lot more.

The rambling frame house, nestled on a lovely wooded setting, comes with a feeling of privacy from its first sight. The rustic atmosphere pervades with paneling in many rooms, including the large central room with brick fireplace. Besides the kitchen, there are four main level bedrooms (one with fireplace) plus tiled bath and laundry - powder - bathroom room. The rooms are of varying sizes (one is about 25 x 45 ft. for instance). The upstairs is quite regular. The two main level bedrooms are planted with maple, and the living room and pretty fenced porch with brick walls. The house is priced at $17,000. R. M. LIGHT REALTY, 425 N. 3rd St., Tel. 924-3622.
